CAREER GUIDANCE AND COUNSELLING

I-NEET PG preparation program has been inducted by CDCRI as a part of internship training program. The college under the program “PG prep” has been providing books for PG preparation and an MCQ bank has been created in the library. As a part of departmental submission, interns were asked to formulate and submit mcq under the guidance of staff to make them understand preparation for exam. But it was observed that the interns still lacked focus and direction for PG preparation. Therefore, I-NEET program was started where students would acquire subject wise guidance by faculty members. This provides them a platform to learn individual subject from staff members, mcq discussion, and clear doubts and to freely interact with staff regarding various aspects of PG entrance preparation. Also an online platform has been created to conduct mcq exams as a part of practice tests.

After completion of BDS degree a student has opportunities to progress in his/her career in various fields. To make them aware and to increase employability, a program on career guidance is held each year for the undergraduates. Various CDE programs are organized for postgraduates where in they are exposed, trained and made aware of scope of their subject and current advancement. Each department also celebrates its day in which faculty sensitize students about scope of the subject and career opportunities in its subject.
